ABOUT THE PROGRAM
This course will explore (1) the overall content, prayer forms, and structure of the Ignatian Spiritual Exercises; (2) the underlying dynamics of each of the four major movements of the Exercises, and, (3) how these facilitate a deepening Christian discipleship and participation in Christ’s mission according to one’s unique gifts and call. The structure and process of the course is designed to give participants a taste of the Spiritual Exercises through periods of instruction, prayer, silence, reflection, discussion, and worship. Hence, all participants are strongly encouraged to reside at the Martina Spiritual Renewal Center during this program.

MARTHA ROBBINS is the founder and director of Pneuma Institute, a program that trains clergy and laity for the ministry of spiritual direction and leadership. She also holds the Joan Marshall Chair Emerita of Pastoral Care, at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

Robbins, a licensed clinical psychologist, is a graduate of Maryville University (B.A.), St. Louis University (M.A.), and Harvard University (Th.D.). She has held positions as director of campus ministry and The Human Development Program at Maryville University, and spiritual mentor and retreat director at the Jesuit Spirituality Center. She co-founded the Spirituality and Psychology Program and the Certificate Program in Spiritual Formation within PTS’s Continuing Education Department. She has published poems, articles, book chapters, and a book, Midlife Women and Death of Mother: A Study of Psychohistorical and Spiritual Transformation. She has also authored a series of professional CDs, Guided Meditations on Sacred Scripture, to assist people in praying with the Bible.
