

*A Celebration of the Life and Ministry of the First African American to be ordained
in the Episcopal Church:*

"Absalom Jones Day" Celebration

Theme: FAITHFULNESS, COURAGE and PERSISTENCE

Saturday, May 1, 2010

Church of the Holy Cross in Homewood
7507 Kelly St. Pittsburgh, PA 15208

10:30a.m. Holy Eucharist

Guest Preacher: The Rev. John C. Welch, Vice Pres. for Student Services and Dean of Students of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. Rev. Welch sits on various community boards and advisory committees, and is President of the Pittsburgh Interfaith Impact Network (PIIN). In 2007, he was recognized by the Church Women United, Inc. with their Human Rights Award and the NAACP 2007 Pastor of the Year Award. Rev. Welch also serves as Chief Chaplain for the City of Pittsburgh Bureau of Police and is currently enrolled at Duquesne University as a PhD candidate in Healthcare Ethics.

Celebration Day Events:

- The Frank E. Bolden Literary Contest Award
- Reenactment of Absalom Jones in a dialogue performed by the Kuntu Theater
- Multicultural Fun for grade school children with Cynthia Jackson
- Luncheon

Registration: $8.00 - Individual / $15.00 - Family Rate
(includes lunch and materials) Childcare available

For information contact:

Nancy Travis Bolden 412-683-8888

*A Celebration of the Life and Ministry of
the First African American to be ordained
in the Episcopal Church:*

"Absalom Jones Day" Celebration

Theme: FAITHFULNESS, COURAGE and PERSISTENCE

Saturday, May 1, 2010

Church of the Holy Cross in Homewood
7507 Kelly St. Pittsburgh, PA 15208

10:30a.m. Holy Eucharist

Guest Preacher: The Rev. John C. Welch, Vice Pres. for Student Services and Dean of Students of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. Rev. Welch sits on various community boards and advisory committees, and is President of the Pittsburgh Interfaith Impact Network (PIIN). In 2007, he was recognized by the Church Women United, Inc. with their Human Rights Award and the NAACP 2007 Pastor of the Year Award. Rev. Welch also serves as Chief Chaplain for the City of Pittsburgh Bureau of Police and is currently enrolled at Duquesne University as a PhD candidate in Healthcare Ethics.

Celebration Day Events:

- The Frank E. Bolden Literary Contest Award
- Reenactment of Absalom Jones in a dialogue performed by the Kuntu Theater
- Multicultural Fun for grade school children with Cynthia Jackson
- Luncheon

Registration: $8.00 - Individual / $15.00 - Family Rate
(includes lunch and materials) Childcare available

For information contact:

Nancy Travis Bolden 412-683-8888